LEADING THE WAY FOR OVER 35 YEARS

We are a well-respected, award-nominated, family-run expert witness reporting company with over 35 years of experience in the medico-legal industry.

Working with both Claimant and Defendant legal representatives, we provide straightforward, highly regarded clinical negligence and personal injury reports supported by our first-rate, personalised and professional service.

Our experts are based across the UK. They are highly experienced registered nurses, occupational therapists, and physiotherapists, many of whom work as case managers.

Each JJ&A expert receives comprehensive expert witness training and understands and adheres to the Civil Procedure Rules.

Luci Lloyd
Director of Operations

"I've been working as a Neurophysiotherapy Expert for JJ&A for over twelve years. The admin support is superb and I couldn't do the job that I do without them! I now have over 30 cases completed and I look forward to many more."

WHAT IS AN EXPERT WITNESS?

Expert witnesses play a crucial role in the UK Court process by providing clear, objective, and well-reasoned opinions. Their contributions are invaluable in assisting judges with complex technical issues, enabling them to reach fair and informed decisions.

HOLDING A UNIQUE POSITION

Expert witnesses hold a unique position within the legal system. Their specialised knowledge and experience, acquired through extensive practice, study or both, enables them to provide their clinical opinion which helps the Court to make informed decisions.

THE IMPORTANCE OF IMPARTIALITY

One of the most important responsibilities of an expert witness is to remain objective and impartial. Their main obligation is to the Court, not to the party instructing them. This dedication to providing unbiased, evidence-based opinions is essential for upholding the integrity of the legal process.

A REWARDING AND PROFESSIONAL PATH

For professionals considering becoming an expert witness, the role offers a unique opportunity to apply their specialist knowledge in a forensic context. It enables them to significantly contribute to the legal system while potentially enhancing their professional reputation and expanding their career opportunities.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What qualifications do I need to become an expert witness?

You should be a Registered Nurse with the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC), Occupational Therapist or Physiotherapist with the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) and have ten years or more of clinical experience in your specialist area.

What specific areas of expertise might an expert witness cover?

Expert witnesses often specialise in the following areas: breach of duty and causation, care needs assessment, equipment and adaptation recommendations, rehabilitation planning, vocational/functional capacity evaluation, and loss of service assessment.

Do I have to leave my current NHS or Private Practice role?

No. An expert witness role is self-employed and can be managed around employed or other self-employed work.

What are the main responsibilities of an expert witness?

The primary responsibilities include conducting thorough assessments, writing detailed reports, providing objective, evidence-based opinions, and potentially giving oral evidence in Court. You must provide opinions within your area of expertise and always remain impartial.

What key skills are required?

Key skills include excellent written and verbal communication, logical reasoning and the ability to defend recommendations and remain calm under cross-examination. You must also be able to express complex ideas clearly and maintain objectivity.

How long is a typical case?

The duration of a case can vary significantly. Some are resolved in months, while others, particularly paediatric cases, can last several years. Expert witnesses must be prepared to commit to a case for its entirety.

How does expert witness work differ from standard clinical practice?

Expert witness work often allows for more creative thinking beyond statutory service limitations. It requires high levels of accuracy, attention to detail, and the ability to analyse medical evidence. The work is often more varied and challenging than standard clinical roles.

Will I have to attend Court?

Most cases settle before they reach Court, thus eliminating the need to attend. We provide full training and dedicated support should you have to attend Court.
